

Pattern Corrections

All my patterns are carefully, checked, edited, and tested by professionals, but sometimes an error slips through in the first printing and is corrected as soon as it is identified.

All my known pattern corrections are below.

If your pattern question is not answered here, please let me know (see contact information on pattern), this is the only way I will know if there is a problem.

Please print this page and use the appropriate correction, or send me your pattern and I will replace it.

I am truly sorry for the wasted time and inconvenience this may have caused you.

K1.7 Lotus Leaf Scarf to Knit

Below the SLIT is explained another way:

When you work the slit, you set it up with the (RS) k1, p1 across row.

Next you work the k sts onto the needle, and put the p sts onto the holder at the back of the needle, one at a time, ending with 9 sts on each. Work 15 rows on needle, put on holder. Put 2nd set of 9 sts on holder onto needle, join yarn (from other end of ball of yarn), work 14 rows, leave 6" tail of yarn. Join front and back sts for slit using attached yarn, one st from each needle and holder (or additional needle) at a time, to match other end of slit, for a total of 18 sts.
